MAROON MEMORIES 1942
Published by Senior Class

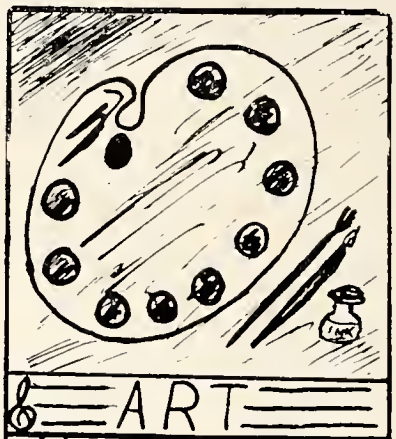
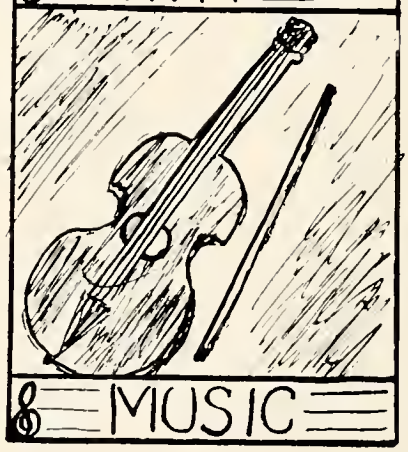
Foreword

Turning away from the present world crisis for a moment, the Class of 1942 presents its great opus, The Maroon Memories of 1942. We know that through the coming years you will learn to cherish and love this humble work of art as a fond remembrance of your four years within the walls of dear old O. H. S.





Dedication

Mr. Carl Woodford

To one who has contributed so largely and unselfishly of his talents during a number of years, we gratefully dedicate this 1942 Maroon Memories. We all recognize, respect, and admire Mr. Woodford's musical skill along with his ability to inspire appreciation and develop latent talents in his students. His untiring devotion will doubtlessly lead to even greater accomplishments in the future.

R. J. CARROLL, Superintendent

Mr. Carroll came to us about three and one half years ago and since that time has performed his duties both in school and in civic capacities faithfully and well. What could be more in keeping with our musical theme than a "Carroll" for our Superintendent.

Board

MRS. GEORGIA PEASLEY, Sec'y.
GEORGE B. CARLON
DR. WALTER CAMPBELL
DR. BURL D. ELLIOTT
DR. GILBERT F. LIVERMORE
MRS. ALVIA HYETT

MRS. MAUDE PARRY

The Class of 1942 pauses for a moment to extend its deepest thanks and appreciation to one who has so efficiently served in her position as secretary to the principal. We have all enjoyed the friendly spirit of cooperation which she so graciously imparts to one and all.

CHARLES E. HAWORTH, Principal

The graciousness and segacity of our principal, Mr. Charles E. Haworth, have won for him a permanent position in our memories. His worthy advice and wise leadership have helped us over paths of pleasure and problems.

Best wishes,
Charles E. Haworth.

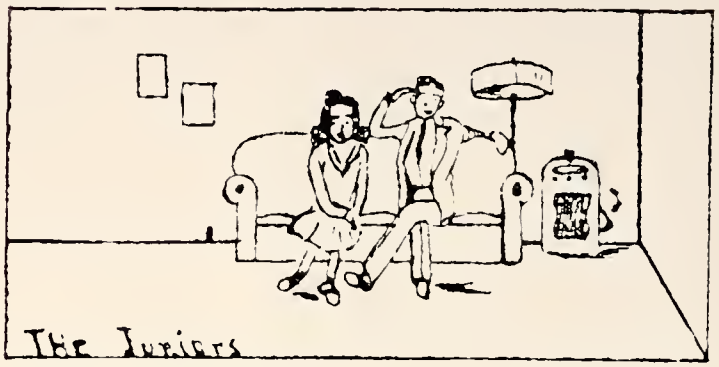
Junior Naturals



Tiring of concerts and the music of man, a company of Juniors rose early one morning and made their way Woodard to listen to the songs of birds. Especially were they thrilled by the song of the "Lark in" the forest. As they made their way here and there through the Woods, they were truly inspired by the happy Robbins, but it wasn't Allgood 'cause a Hawk swooped down, frightening the Life out of the little songbirds. Then they came upon a Wolfe and Betty became so frightened that she used her Hanke. However, they were not cowardly and consequently did not Shirk from their mission, but Holden each others hands, by just a few Knox, they bade the Wolfe goodbye. As he Sander(ed) along, Ferris Seibert called out, "How about some Eaton'." So they sat down in a Rowe and partook of Plum(s) and Graham crackers, topped by Reed's ice cream. Now, very thirsty, they crossed some Bridges and found themselves in the open, in fact, just back of an Al(l)corn country home; made their way down a Barnhill, when a Hunter directed them to some Wells where their thirst was satisfied. After being thus refreshed, the trip was Caldwell by all and though they were not so good Walker(s) as earlier, they Hobb(led) back home to rest up for their evening Sparks.

Sophomore Sharps

Sophomores—The Sharps of O. H. S.

From the melodious strains of youth we now bring you the tune of the sophomores.
The students of note might rightfully be:
The three chimes: Shirley Grimes, Alice Kuiper, and Ginny Snider.
The lark: Eileen Phillips.
The Barbershop Quartet: Jack Brewer, Richard Edwards, Clell McGuigan, and Bill Tandy.
Major Bowes' Amateurs: Raymond Pierson, Bettye J. Tuller, Tom Morrison, Bernice Geerlings, and Clell McGuigan.
Sadie's Mixed Sextet: Gus Sunstrum, Janet Hyde, Charles Walling, Patty Kilpatrick, John Porter, and Geri McIntyre.
Bobby Cunningham's motto seems to be "Just B Natural."
The comic magazines are still popular among the sophomore boys as well as a few girls.
When a "rah, rah, rah" comes forth, it's probably headed by John Bosworth.
Your opportunities are golden, so grasp them, Lois Vande Lune.
Janice Clarey and June Ann Muhl certainly do their best as drum majorettes.
The Quack Quartet: Melvin Durham, Vincent Putnam, Paul Eveland, and Don Christiansen.

Here's to the sophomores, full of glee,
Loyal and true to the letter "V".
Let's do our bit to help Uncle Sam,
War, hatred, and grief all to ban.

May Old Glory wave forever
O'er our land of liberty,
And may each and all endeavor
To guard our flag through unity.

Robert Bruere, a member of our High School though never seen, has taken his schooling by the communication system for the past two years. Although encumbered by many difficulties, he rates high scholastically.

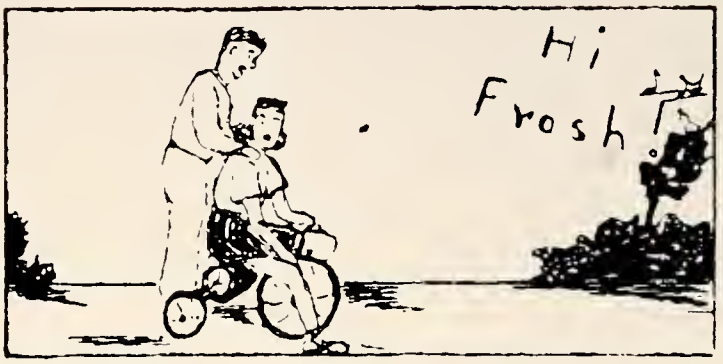
Freshmen Flats



Freshmen—The Flats of O. H. S.

Looking over the Freshmen, we think that they have everything that it takes to make a hit, and we are sure that in three more years they will be leading the parade. So, we have decided to liken some of the characteristics of music unto the characterisitcs of our O. H. S. Freshmen.

Flat—The upper classmen thought all the freshmen to be a bit flat when they entered O. H. S. but they have sharpened up amazingly.

Sharp—Phil Bayless's sharp wits make him the source of humor for the freshmen class.

Tempo—Frankie Provozano sets the tempo for talkativeness which seems to be a general characteristic of the whole freshmen class.

Smoothness—Joyce Shrago is smooth enough to make all the freshmen hearts turn over.

Liveliness—Virginia Perry has the necessary quality of liveliness and ambition.

Sweetness—Ann Thomas wins many admirers by this asset.

Treble—All the freshmen were tre(m)bling on their first day at O. H. S.

Loud—The loud voices of the freshmen have enabled them to win some of the yell contests from the Seniors who had won them for the past three years.

Major—Janet Ziemer will no doubt soon be one of the drum major(ettes) of the O. H. S. marching band.

Scale—Chuck Barnhouse tops the scale of the class with his natural musical ability.

Senior Plays

In the life of every age can be found a satyr, a coward, a bully, a shrew, a hussy, a rogue, a cad, a cat, a snob, a slut, and a cheat. These were all found in the New York boarding house presided over by Mrs. Sharpe. Only two of the characters really had a clear outlook on life, and then a stranger comes along.

This was a serious fantasy drama, calling for strong character portrayal, while humor and pathos relieve each other.

Tish, a comedy in three acts, was the first of the two senior plays to be presented this year. Under the capable direction of Miss Marjorie Lynch, the play was a huge success and the cast thoroughly enjoyed playing to the capacity crowd that invaded the O. H. S. auditorium.

The play centered around "Tish" a middle aged spinster, blunt and outspoken but entirely lovable and her two boon companions. During the course of the play, "Tish" succeeded in getting everyhody around her in and out of more jams than can he imagined and there was great suspense and excitement until the final curtain.

Officer Schultz—Arthur Roberts, Joe McCartie.
Assistant to Director—Mildred Lyness.

On various occasions during the year, the student body has enjoyed plays presented in the assembly by the speech department. Under the able direction of Miss Erma Smith, speech instructor, these productions have been most successfully given.

The first of the series, "Wheels," dramatic in nature, impressed all with its moral: The wages of disobedience and lawlessness are disaster and tragedy.

The second play, presented later in the year, "Orange at the Window, Purple at the Window," was of light nature, and kept its audience in laughter throughout the entire portrayal.

Lastly, at an assembly at the close of the school year, came "Curse You, Jack Dalton." This was an old fashioned melodrama, a type always delightful to any audience and "Curse You, Jack Dalton" was no exception to the rule, since all were enthusiastic in its praise.

INTRODUCING THE O. H. S. MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Olga Hoffman, in her two years in the O. H. S. vocal department, has come into the hearts of all our students through her graciousness and cooperation. As a director she has developed a feeling of good will in her groups along with the technical knowledge she gives; as an individual she has become known for her charming programs she has offered in the assembly on so many occasions. Three cheers for a grand person and a grand department.

The O. H. S. Band and hand groups are among our most highly prized possessions. Under the direction of Ivan D. Kennedy, we have enjoyed the music of these organizations in our assemblies, in local parades, in contests, in special concerts, and at athletic events. May the coming years bring with them continued successes for the band and to its director, who has worked so faithfully to make it the success that it is.

Mr. Carl Woodford, director of the O. H. S. Orchestra, has again this year proven his ability to bring our orchestra to greater heights of success. The orchestra and its small groups participated in a great many school activities and gave to the public the pleasure of three fine concerts. Mr. Woodford's musical talent and ability are reflected in his splendid groups.

Football

Although the Indian football squad won only two of nine games, they did gain much valuable experience. Starting the first of the season with but a handful of experienced men, the Oskies were hounded by injuries the entire season.

Highlights of the 1941 season include the Indians' 24-0 rout of Knoxville, their 12-0 victory over Albia, and the selection of Bill Clarey, Oskaloosa tackle, on the all-conference team.

Starting a basketball season which appeared to end much the same as did the football card, Oskaloosa ended up the season with a bang, advancing to the semifinal round of the district meet, only to be turned back by Ottumwa, who went on to become state champions.

With only three lettermen around which to build a winning team, Coach Don Wernimont, starting his first year as basketball coach at O. H. S. fully succeeded at the end of the regular playing season.

Bright spots of the '41-'42 campaign were Ferris Seibert's collecting 103 points, which include his 31 point barrage in the Boone game to set a new one-game record, for top-scoring honors in the conference, Osky's 37-23 victory over Mason City, and the Indians' remarkable comeback at the end of the season.

Cross Country

This year John Roth mentored the Oskaloosa High School Cross Country team. The squad turned in a commendable performance in placing fifth in the mile run at Iowa City.

I once had a heart
and it was true!
But now it has left me —
and gone to you —
Treat it well — as I have done!
For you have two — as I have NONE!!

Dear Jerry:

I don't know any poetry to write to you, but all I have to say is that I miss you already and next year I'll probably wish I'd graduated with this class. And if you go away please let me know how you are doing, which I know will be well because you have done so good so far. As you went to go til sign, but always remember me.
